Lactea Dog Center

Mission

Inspired by the grandeur and harmony of the Milky Way—the galaxy par excellence—we have created an inclusive, stimulating environment where dogs of all kinds and their owners can understand and deeply connect with one another through training programs, as well as daycare and boarding services.

Vision

At Lactea Dog Center, we work to build a world where all dogs can live full and satisfying lives alongside people who understand and respect them—forging unbreakable bonds and contributing to an inclusive, balanced, and responsible society that enriches everyone's lives.

The center and the Team

The Center

The dog training center is situated on a 4,000-square-meter site—divided into three fields—within the Beaulard woods, and includes an indoor facility in Oulx featuring a 50-square-meter play area and a 350-square-meter outdoor area.

Paola & Aiden

Aiden had the pleasure of staying with Anthea twice, and everything went perfectly! We have peace of mind knowing we receive daily updates, and when we return, we find him calm and happy. An excellent experience.

-Paola

Federica & Bric

Anthea is very knowledgeable, and her advice has been invaluable to me. She is an excellent teacher, which is why Bric and I started Agility lessons with her—we're both having a blast!

Anthea Ostellino

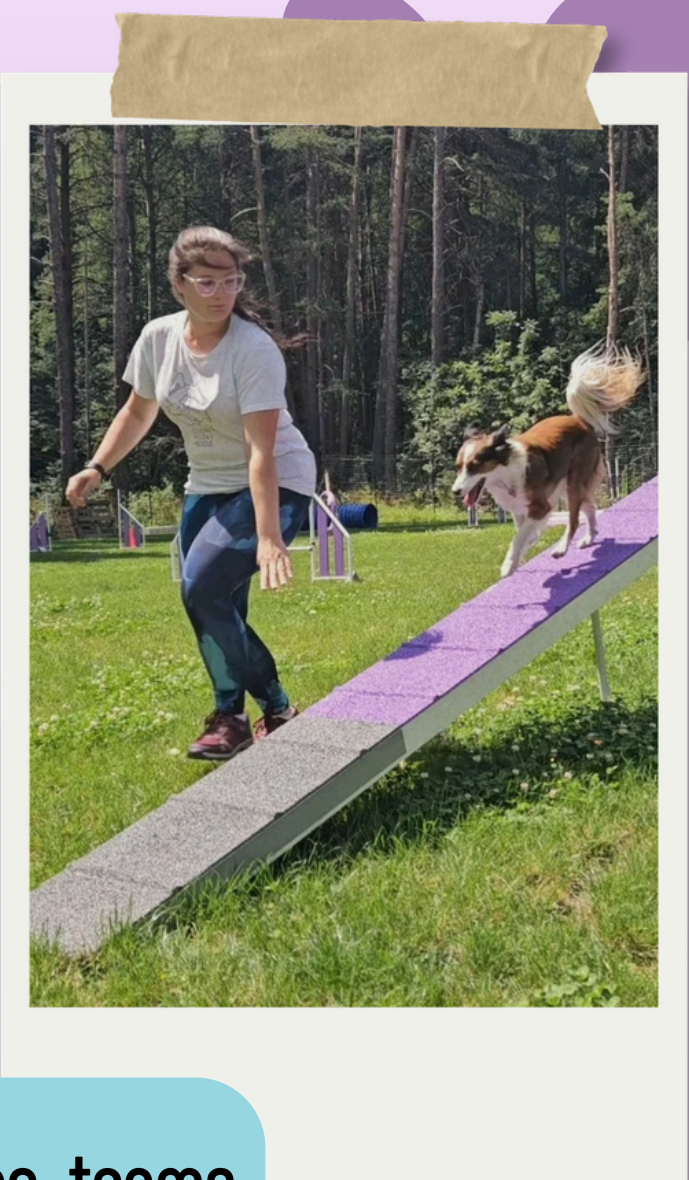

"From Siberian Huskies, I have learned loyalty, strength, endurance, and freedom. Every encounter with a dog leaves a small star in my heart—bright and eternal."

Since childhood, my gaze has been drawn to dogs and the stars—two passions that have guided my life's path. I turned that love into a profession, becoming a Level III Dog Trainer (CSEN, FISC, ASC) in 2015, graduating from the University of Pisa in 2021 with a degree in Animal Breeding Techniques and Dog Training (specializing in Siberian Huskies), and completing the ESCAC Master's program in Behavioral Rehabilitation.

My various technical qualifications allow me to coach handler-dog teams across several sporting disciplines: Level 3 Agility Instructor, Level 2 Hoopers Instructor, Level 1 Canicross Coach, and Level 1 Rally Obedience Coach.

I carefully look after the well-being and safety of animals as a BAU-certified animal first aid specialist. Every dog is a universe waiting to be discovered, and my role is to guide this journey, ensuring it becomes a unique experience filled with harmony and a deep bond.

What they say about us

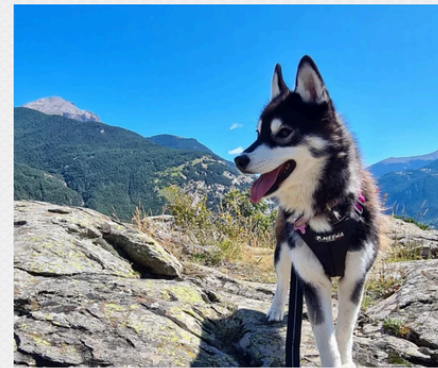

— Aldo con Leo & Liz

"It was a wonderful, fun, and educational experience.

Anthea is a true animal lover—professional and knowledgeable. The center is spotless and well-maintained, situated in the Beaulard pine forest—a fantastic location.

Leo and Liz played and ran around in complete safety, and despite their age (10 and 11), they learned a lot. Anthea, we're booking for next summer right now—save us a spot! Thank you."

-Aldo

— Francesca & Brianna

I really enjoyed myself today! I understood—though actually executing and putting it into practice is another matter—what you mean by attention, the partnership, play, and collaboration.

-Francesca

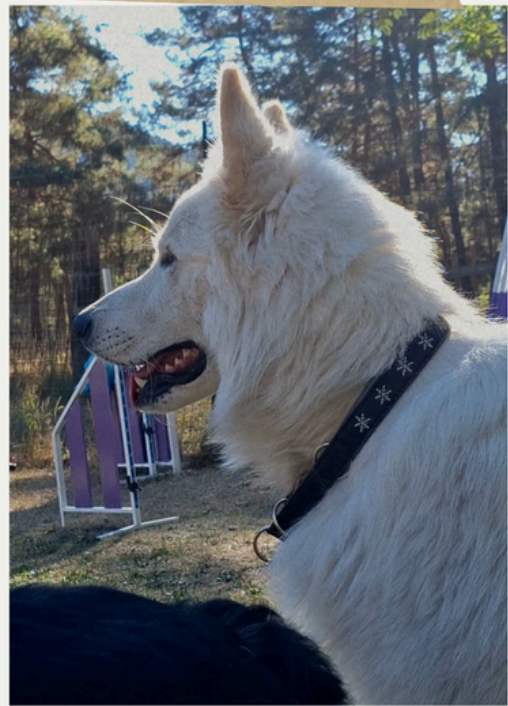

— Federica e Noche

Anthea is a highly qualified and experienced trainer. She and her team oversaw our dog Noche's training, providing us with great support and invaluable advice.

Noche adores her, and we will continue to rely on her as Noche grows.

-Federica

— Ilaria e Harley

A positive first experience with this facility. Our three-month-old puppy had a wonderful time. They sent us update photos of her playing and socializing, allowing us to enjoy our wedding with peace of mind. We would certainly consider using them again if the need arises.

— Ilaria

— Francesca & Sole

We wrapped up our first training program today with our little Cocker Spaniel, Sole, and we are very pleased with what she learned—and especially with what we learned! Anthea is wonderful and very sweet; she is always available to answer questions, and her method definitely works. We highly recommend her center to anyone who wants to understand their animal companions better!

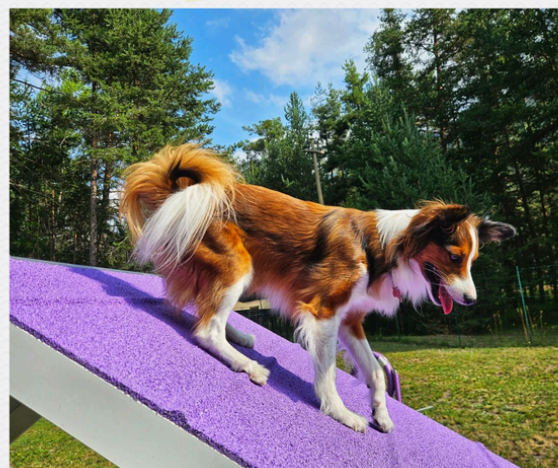

— Francesca

— Barbara e Natalina

"[...] Anthea managed to bring out the best in Natalina, who is gradually becoming more confident: she is now a cheerful little dog and increasingly affectionate; she approaches people and gets along well with other dogs. She spent a week in boarding care and did very well—pampered and well-cared-for... Whenever I received the photos or videos Anthea sent daily, I always saw a happy dog—and the progress she made during those days was remarkable. [...]"

—Barbara

— Emanuela, Balto e Belle

"Highly recommended place for growing alongside your dog(s); Anthea is incredibly professional, approachable, and kind. She worked with me and my first dog, Balto, who had various communication issues and phobias stemming from his abandonment; by following her advice, we managed to live together harmoniously. Anthea has also helped—and continues to help—me manage the pair, Balto and Belle. She established a training center and, more recently, a dog daycare—exactly the kind of place I had been hoping for. It is a superbly equipped facility that the Upper Susa Valley really needed; we couldn't do without it!"

—Emanuela
